

Sacramento special interests and political fringe groups want to mislead you about the future of College of San Mateo, Cañada College and Skyline College. Vote YES on Measure G.

FACT: San Mateo County Community College District has been ravaged by $25 million in State budget cuts.

“Tuition [that goes directly to Sacramento] is rising; classrooms and labs are crowded or unavailable. State budget cuts are making it harder for me to graduate.”

Israel Calva, CSM engineering student

FACT: Measure G expands access to affordable, higher education for local students.

“With 14,000 students on wait lists, many students can’t get the classes they need.”

George Juelch, Cañada College student; Iraq War Veteran

FACT: Measure G protects important job training programs.

“When I was laid off at age 46; my future looked bleak. I enrolled in Skyline College’s biotech training program. After graduation, I immediately found a good paying job with a bright future at a major biotech company in San Mateo County.”

Jose Ruiz, Skyline College Alumnus

FACT: No funds from Measure G can be used for administrative salaries.

“It’s illegal to use funds for administrator salaries.”

Marion McDowell, Former President, State Board of Education

FACT: Measure G establishes a senior exemption and a citizens’ oversight committee.

“Measure G includes a senior exemption, citizens’ oversight and mandates every penny be spent on our local community colleges.”

Marian Mann, Vice President, Daly City Senior Citizens’ Club

Measure G will help local students continue their education and prepare for universities or careers.

Vote YES on Measure G and visit www.YesonMeasureG.com

Virginia Medrano Rosales, Student Trustee, San Mateo County Community College District

Zenei Cortez, RN, President, California Nurses Association

Brian M. Kelly, San Mateo Fire Chief (retired)

Chris Rodriguez, Cañada College Engineering Student

Jim Wyatt, Chair, Bond Oversight Committee